

Review Tips & Guidelines

Bali Kids Guide aims to provide helpful information to families wanting to visit Bali, letting them know what to expect and how to have a fantastic time here. We can't do this alone!

There is always something going on in Bali. New businesses open, existing listings change or are taken out by competition. Your needs and requirements as parents traveling with kids are also constantly evolving. Remember way back when WiFi was not a must have amenity?

These are just a few of the reasons why your reviews on our listings are really important! To ensure your reviews are awesome and helpful for families traveling to Bali, please read through the following tips and guidelines.

Helpful Tips

To help our community know what listings are great for their own families, try to mention as many key details in your review as possible. Imagine you are suggesting the business to a good friend. What types of things would you want them to know?

It's helpful to mention things like:

- How old your kids are
- How long you stayed
- What your kids enjoyed
- What amenities they had that were really helpful
- What age of children would you recommend the listing for

It's also great to include personal details from your family's experience. What was your biggest surprise? Delight? What little things stood out? It's also always helpful to use a family-friendly voice, just like you're speaking to other parents! Our community loves to hear real stories, and what made your experience so awesome.

Please don't add any commercial or promotional material for another business in a review. Just try to keep it about the listing itself, and your family's experience there.
